THE BLUES

Why Do Women Have the Blues More Than Men?

Are not women naturally as light-hearted, brave, and hopeful as men?

Yes; but woman's organism is different from man's.

Women in perfect or good health are rarely victims of this symptom.

Women nearly monopolize the blues, because their peculiar ailments promote them.

When the female organs fail to perform their functions properly, when the dreaded female complaints appear, there is shown nervousness, sleeplessness, faintness, backache, headache, bearing down pains, etc., causing the dreaded "let-me-alone" and "all-gone" feelings.

When the woman does not understand what the matter is, and her doctor can not or will not tell her, she grows morose and melancholy; that's the blues.

"I am happy to say your Vegetable Compound has cured me. "My suffering every month was dreadful. The doctor gave me morphine to ease the pain, but nothing to cure me; and I was obliged to spend two or three days in bed. Now I have no pain at all.

"I can work harder, and be on my feet longer, than I have for years. I cannot praise your medicine enough. I am glad to tell every one that I was cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Our druggist says there is a great demand for your medicine here."

A NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE.

Ohio and Pennsylvania Towns and Others Get Franchises.

TOLEDO, Feb. 5.—An interstate six-club baseball league has been formed in this city, the following cities being represented: Youngstown and Toledo, Ohio; Fort Wayne, Indiana; New Castle and Washington, Pennsylvania, and Wheeling, West Virginia.

The representatives of the various clubs placed a guarantee of $500 to play out a five-months' season, and C. B. Power was elected president, secretary and treasurer. The league will apply for national protection under class A, and the salary limit will be placed at $1,000. The directors will meet next month to arrange a schedule. The franchises were awarded as follows: A. A. Anderson, Youngstown; W. S. Wright, Wheeling; B. J. D. McKeown, Washington; J. L. McTate, New Castle; William Myers, Fort Wayne; J. M. Gunnells, Toledo.

THE TURKS LIKE TERRELL.

His Vigorous Action Causes Them to Invite Him to Court Dinners.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Feb. 5.—It is denied here that the porte has refused to admit a second dispatch boat for the service of the United States legation. The matter, it appears, is not yet settled. The porte, it is claimed, does not contest the right of entry, but contends that the moment for such a reinforcement is inopportune.

It has been much remarked in official circles here that since the rigorous action of the United States minister, Mr. Alexander W. Terrell, in behhalf of the American missionaries, he alone is mentioned in the court circulars as a guest at the court dinners.

The impression prevails in diplomatic circles here that the United States and Great Britain may eventually unite in order to save the Armenians.

THE A. P. A. IGNORED.

Accused In the House of Fighting Catholic Charitable Institutions.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The house spent some time debating a series of amendments offered by Mr. Hainer (Rep., Neb.), to strike from the District of Columbia appropriation bill the appropriations for private and sectarian institutions of charity in the District and place the money proposed to be appropriated for them at the disposal of the board of children's guardians. Much feeling was engendered and at times the debate grew quite exciting.

The amendments passed as far as sectarian institutions were concerned. It was openly declared that it was a fight of the A. P. A. on Catholic institutions.

PRINCE HENRY'S REMAINS.

They Were Interred This Morning at Whippingham Church, Osborne.

COWES, England, Feb. 5.—The remains of Prince Henry of Battenberg lay here all night on the Alberta after the sorrowful visit of Queen Victoria, the Prince of Wales, the dead prince's wife, Princess Beatrice, and other members of the royal family.

This morning the remains were escorted to Whippingham church, which the royal family attend while at Osborne, for interment.

Starvation Drove Him to Suicide.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 5.—D. H. Goodyear, said to be a son of ex-Mayor D. F. Goodyear of Memphis, Tenn., has committed suicide in a cheap lodging house. Inability to obtain employment drove him to the act. A woman with two children, claiming to be Goodyear's wife, is completely prostrated by the death of her husband.

A Bank In a Bad Way.

ROME, N. Y., Feb. 5.—The condition of the Fort Stanwix National bank proves to be very bad. It is stated on good authority that the bank is involved to the extent of nearly, if not quite, $400,000. It is alleged that lately Cashier Barnard, who suicided, had been speculating in stocks.

WATER SNAKE FIGHTS EEL.

Terrific Combat Which Finally Ended in the Eel's Escape.

"Did you ever know that there is a deadly antipathy between a common water snake and an eel?" asked the fisherman, reports the Indianapolis Sentinel. "Well, I never knew it until an experience that I had in witnessing a fight between the two. Personally I have the greatest dread of eels. I'm more afraid of them than I am of a snake, and you can imagine my chagrin when I happened to hook one on one of my fishing expeditions. I was afraid to touch it, and all I could do was to let it dangle in the air. I could not get it off my hook, and I was meditating what to do, when altogether unnoticed I allowed the slimy object to drop down into the water. In a moment I saw a big water snake make a dive for it. At the first lunge it caught the neck of the eel squarely between its teeth and I could see it sink its ugly-looking fangs into the eel's flesh. I waited anxiously to see the developments. With its grim hold still on the eel's neck the snake, quick as it takes to tell it, wrapped its sinuous body around its antagonist's neck in an effort to squeeze it to death. The body of the eel was too sleek, however, and the snake's coils, despite all it could do, would slip down into the water. Time and time again it tried to squeeze the life out of its antagonist, never for an instant releasing its hold on the eel's neck, but the body of the latter was too sleek for it, and every time it would slip down. Finally the hook broke, and the eel made good its escape."

ENTANGLED IN HIS OVERCOAT.

Unfortunate Predicament of a Very Fat Man at the Theater.

He was such a very fat man that the entire audience turned around to look at him when he came into the theater in the middle of the first act and took his seat in an orchestra chair. He wore his last year's fall overcoat, says the Philadelphia Record, which was tight for him. He had evidently taken on flesh during the year. He paid no attention to the interest his neighbors evinced in him, but sat down and at once became absorbed in the play. He grew warm, and with his eyes still glued to the stage, he arose and shed his overcoat. The people around him began to titter, and finally to laugh very audibly. The fat man realized at length that the people were laughing at him. Then he noticed, with great confusion, that he was in his shirtsleeves. His sack coat had come off with the other. He put them both on again and tried to peel off the overcoat, but it wouldn't move a little bit. He gave a desperate tug and wriggled his fat shoulders, and the next moment he was in his shirtsleeves again. "Get out!" "Sit down!" "Rip it off!" cried the people behind him, but the fat man tried again, and with the assistance of two men in the seats behind him he finally managed to shed his overcoat.

BENDING OF WOODS.

An Art Extensively Used in Carriage and Boat Building.

Comparatively few persons outside the carriage and boat-building industry are aware of the extent of the wood-bending industry, and but few realize that the carriages they ride in are very largely made of such wood—the felloes of all their wheels are bent and made in two parts—the framework of coaches and heavy carriages is nearly all made of bent stock, and not only better made, but more cheaply—and the frames of pleasure boats are bent, as also many of the frames of the finest sailing yachts; furniture, too, of many kinds has bent frames, all the celebrated Thonet chairs, for example, being made entirely of wood thus treated. The object of bending is twofold, says the Woodworker, namely, saving of time and stock and stability and strength of the work when put together—this independent of beauty of form; and bent carriage shafts are almost, if not entirely, used now, instead of the old-style, clumsy, sawed ones. Skill in manipulating the material is very essential; simply the forms to bend on, and the steam box in which to soften the wood do not alone insure success in the operation—it is necessary to know perfectly the stock to bend, it being so variable that no two pieces bend alike.

PECULIAR RETAINING FEE.

John Chinaman Had It Arranged Before He Perpetrated the Crime.

Col. A. T. Vogelsang, the attorney, is regarded as one of the best raconteurs of the legal profession. In the Palace grillroom recently, says the San Francisco Call, he let out a string of anecdotes. He said that a few weeks ago Dennis Spencer, the Napa luminary, was called upon by a Chinaman one evening, when the following dialogue occurred:

"'One Chinaman kill another Chinaman with a hatchet; how much you charge make him clear?'

"'I'll take the case,' said Mr. Spencer, 'for $1,000.'

"'Allee light,' said the Chinaman, 'I be back after while.'

"In about a week he returned to Mr. Spencer's office and laid down $1,000 in gold coin on his table. Mr. Spencer swept the money into the drawer.

"'Well, the Chinaman, he dead.'

"'Who killed him?'

"'I did.'

"'When did you kill him?'

"'Last night.'"

There was some curiosity on the part of the audience for further light on the disposition of the $1,000, but Mr. Vogelsang immediately spun off on to another story.

France and Great Britain.

The population of France in 1891 was 38,343,192, and of Great Britain 37,888,153, or a difference of only about half a million in favor of France. It is now announced that the census to be taken the coming year will show that the population of Great Britain is the greater. The reason for this reversal of relation is the small birth rate of France and the unusually large one in Great Britain. There has been no emigration of consequence into the latter country, and France has lost but little by emigration, so that the above cause accounts for the relative British increase of over 1,000,000. The area of France is over 240,000 miles, and that of Great Britain only a little more than half as great, or 121,481 miles.

WOULDN'T WEAR IT.

Sad Mistake Made by a Short-Sighted Bishop in England.

There is a hat story in which a well-known bishop and a lately-deceased marquis played leading parts. The marquis, who married a Gaiety chorus girl, and, generally speaking, lived up to the high standard of his marriage life, was accustomed to wear a particular style of hat, shorter than that favored by most men. One day, says the St. James Budget, he went into his hatmaker's in Piccadilly and asked for a new one to be made. The shopwalker took the hat, and walked down to the far end of the shop to give the requisite instructions, leaving the hatless marquis standing in the shop. At this moment there entered the short-sighted bishop of X, also in want of a new headgear. He saw only a small man, who might have passed for a shopkeeper, standing staring at him. So he took his peculiar hat off his head and went up to him. "Do you think, my good man," he said, persuasively, "that you have a hat like that?" The marquis looked at him for a moment, speechless with indignation, while the shopkeeper, seeing what was amiss, hurried up as fast as he could. Unfortunately, the marquis found his voice before the hat man reached his client. "No," he said giving the bishop back his headgear; "I haven't got a hat like that, and if I had I'm blowed if I would wear it!"

BERRY'S HENS WERE SLEEPY.

Rode Seventeen Miles Perched on a Wagon Reach Without Waking.

Linn Berry has a big chicken farm in West Buxton and has several hundred hens. He brings many eggs and chickens (dead and dressed) to Portland, says the Portland (Me.) Press. He loads his wagon the night before and starts at three o'clock a. m. He has only to hitch up the horses and drive off. He did so the other morning. It is a drive of 17 miles to this city. He reached here at just about sunrise.

As he approached the United States hotel to deliver some produce some one shouted at him and asked him if he had brought his hens to market roosting on the crossbar under the wagon. He paid no attention, supposing the man was guying him. But when he stopped at the hotel and others called his attention to four hens roosting under the wagon and just waking up, it was doubtful which was most astonished, Mr. Berry or the hens.

Two of the latter were panic-stricken and started down Federal street. One was caught on Temple street and the other got down almost to Exchange street before it was captured. The cook at the hotel bought the four hens for one dollar and took them home.

How many hens were asleep under the wagon when Mr. Berry started from home he can't tell, but it is very possible that there were more than four.

SHE WAS ECONOMICAL.

But After Testing the Result Her Husband Was Unappreciative.

With one of those good intentions with which the infernal regions are said to be paved, an economic uptown housewife recently dyed her hubby's shabby hat. The operation was performed, says the Philadelphia Record, with a toothbrush and a package of patent dye, unknown to the owner of the headgear, who put his hat on before it was dry and sallied forth to his Chestnut street office. On drying the Derby turned a beautiful bronze, attracting no little attention as its ignorant and blissful wearer passed through the principal streets. Before he reached the office he was caught in a shower, and when he afterward saw himself in a mirror his countenance was decorated like that of an Indian chieftain in war paint. The dye wasn't fast black—indeed, it wasn't even black, and to the prejudiced eye of the unhappy husband it seemed to have been composed of green, pink, blue, purple and yellow. The lecture he delivered on "false economy" when he reached home would have done credit to Mrs. Caudle.

Petroleum in Russia.

A peculiar fact in respect to petroleum is the difference of conditions under which that oil occurs in Russia and America. In the former it is found in strata of the tertiary period, usually a formation resembling a quicksand, and at depths of only a few hundred feet. In our own country it occurs at great depths in the older compact sandstones and limestones. American oil yields a very large proportion, say about 70 per cent., of illuminating oil exactly suited for combustion in our ordinary lamps; the Russian oil produces far less of such oil and a larger proportion of high-class lubricating oil. The Russian illuminating oil also requires to be burned in a modified form of lamp with a more perfect draught in order to overcome its tendency to produce a smoky flame, and it is largely this fact which has prevented the consumption of Russian oil for light abroad.

Navel Oranges.

It has been shown that the tangerine orange and possibly some other varieties are formed through the effort of the orange to make a secondary growth at the apex of the original one, only that it failed to make any original at all. In other words, the tangerine orange is a well-developed secondary fruit. How this can be brought about may be readily understood by carefully examining the oranges known in the market as the navel variety. In these cases a small orange can often be found at the apex, sometimes of considerable size. When the small one is largely developed and the larger one wholly suppressed, then we have the tangerine.

Coaching the Witness.

"My good woman," said the learned judge, "you must give an answer in the fewest possible words of which you are capable to the plain and simple question whether you were crossing the street with the baby on your arms and the omnibus was coming down on the opposite side and the cab on the left and the brougham was trying to pass the omnibus, you saw the plaintiff between the brougham and the cab, or whether and when you saw him at all, and whether or not near the brougham, and which of them, respectively, or how it was."

Cambria Freeman.

EBENSBURG, CAMBRIA CO., PA.

FRIDAY, - - FEBRUARY 7, 1896.

ROBERT BLAINE, a brother of James G. Blaine, is an applicant for sergeant-at-arms of the senate, with poor prospects.

AT Circleville, O., Saturday, the jury in the case of Col. Coit, tried for murder in shooting down rioters during the Washington court house troubles a year ago, returned a verdict of not guilty.

THE United States minister, Mr. Terrell, has demanded an indemnity of $100,000 for the burning and pillaging of the American missions at Marash and Kharpoot. He also asked for the immediate granting of firmans for rebuilding them.

EDWIN F. UHL, of Michigan, now assistant secretary of state, who has been appointed Ambassador to Germany to succeed the late Chancellor Runyon, is a native of Somerset county, and his brother is the present postmaster at Somerset.

In a letter dated at Indianapolis, Ind., February 3rd, 1896, to Hon. John K. Gowdy, of that city, Ex-President Benjamin Harrison emphatically declares that he is not a candidate for the Republican nomination for the presidency.

A FOLDING bed closed in on Mrs. M. H. Bohrer, wife of the traveling passenger agent of the Mobile & Ohio, and her mother, Mrs. P. Esselman, at Fostoria, Ohio, on last Tuesday night. Mrs. Bohrer managed to kick the end out of the bed and crawl out, but was fatally injured. Mrs. Esselman will recover.

THE secretary of agriculture is preparing for the governor a brief statement of the status of the agricultural societies of the commonwealth. His books show 101 county organizations, sixty three being represented by members on the state board of agriculture, and which under the act of 1851, are entitled to a county bounty.

THE hay crop of this country is about $500,000,000 per annum. It is less or more some years, but is one of the most important crops grown, being in value about equal to corn and twice as much as the cotton crop. But very little of it is exported, nearly the whole being consumed or finding a market at home. The growing of hay pays as well as any staple crop on the farm.

PHILADELPHIA had a fire on Sunday morning which destroyed property estimated to be worth a million and a half dollars. The Haseltine building and the American Baptist Publication building were totally destroyed and the Lafayette Hotel damaged to the extent of about $35,000. The Haseltine collection of pictures, worth $350,000, was also destroyed. The fire occurred at Broad and Chestnut streets.

A REPUBLICAN contempary says: "The people of this country are losing $8,000,000 a year by slaughtering their sheep, instead of clipping the fleeces, as they did before the duty was taken off wool." On the other hand, the people of this country are making $40,000,000 a year, by reason of the removal of tariff on wool, in being enabled to purchase cheaper and better clothing, flannels and blankets.

NEW YORK architects have completed plans for a 200 story building in that city. The plans were prepared by order of a Gotham capitalist who proposed to have the structure erected. It will occupy an entire city block. It is designed somewhat after the Eiffel tower, except that it will be nearly three times as high. There will be a total of 24,000,000 square feet of space on the 200 floors. It will contain 100,000 separate offices or rooms, capable of accommodating 400,000 persons under one roof.

MR. and Mrs. John W. Mackay and their son Clarence were among the passengers on board La Touraine, the French liner which arrived at New York, on Saturday, after a tempestous voyage. The Mackays brought with them the body of their son John W., who was thrown from his horse and killed while hunting at his country seat near Paris, October 18 last. The remains will be taken to San Francisco, where they will be placed in the magnificent mausoleum recently erected by the elder Mackay.

IN these days when the genius of reform is abroad in the land and political traders everywhere find it necessary to take desperate means of self defense, it is not surprising to see even so astute an old stager as Tom Platt, the Republican boss of New York, come forward with a tale of woe about treason in his party camp, the knavish tricks of reformers and the ruin that hangs over the Republican party if it does not stand by gentlemen who are past masters in the art of making the party machinery contribute to their own aggrandizement.

THE Republicans in the senate, having warmed the free silver viper in their bosoms, are now suffering the consequences of their own greed and political contriving. The Dingley "Revenue" bill, like the Dingley bond bill, has been reported back to the senate with all the Dingley business cut out of it and a free coinage proposition substituted. Thus Populism strikes at the public credit from under the cloak of Republicanism. Happily, in this instance protectionism of one sort has been side-tracked and submerged by protectionism of another sort. They are both of the same brood, and bottomed upon the same vicious principle.

AMONG the queer items in the auditors' report is that under the head of "classification of expenditures" in the report of the receipts and expenditures of poor and house employment as published in this issue. The items are as follows:

"By amount expended by Thos. Hoover for three months ending March; 1895, $8,579,54; Amt. paid Thomas Hoover for 15 trips to Johnstown, and pumping not included in above amount, $375,00; amount expended by Thomas J. Hughes for 9 months ending December 31, 1895 $16,556,94," and the classification ends.

Of course the intelligent reader will see at a glance that the object of the "jays" who for the first time interjected the "classification" into the reports was to inject into the reader the belief that what was costing the taxpayers under Steward Hoover about $2,800 per month was only costing about $1,800 under Steward Hughes. But as the classification shows nothing, and when the fact is considered that the same directors issued the orders to pay the $8,579,54 under Hoover, that issued the orders to pay $16,556,94 under Hughes, we conclude that the first three months were about as honestly conducted as the latter nine.

As to the item "amount paid Thomas Hoover for 15 trips to Johnstown and pumping not included in above amount $375.00," it is as clear as mud and that is about as clear as the present board of auditors could make anything. But why not include the pumping and tell us what kind of pumping was done? Was the pumping done in Johnstown, or along the road or at the almshouse? Was it for pumping water, pumping beer or pumping Director Sumerville's son on the pay roll? Was some of the pumping done on each trip or was it all done at one time?

If the auditors had given the items that made up the various amounts, including the "pumping" the "classification" would furnish some information, but as it is it shows to nothing.

THE English parliament will meet in a few days, and the Salisbury ministry that went in with such a tremendous majority finds itself at the outset in hot water, which the patriotic furor caused by the quick equipment for service of the flying squadron will hardly dissipate. In rejecting arbitration on the Venezuelan boundary, with the attendant result of a sharp and dangerous issue with the United States, the premier is clearly out of touch with English sentiment. John Morley, who stands in succession to Gladstone as the Liberal leader in his canvass for a seat in parliament at a by-election, has declared in favor of arbitration to settle the boundary question. The Liberals will also challenge the Armenian-Turkish policy of indifference and timidity set forth in Lord Salisbury's recent speech, which is freely denounced in England. This speech sets heavy on the English conscience for one thing, and the confession of inability to discipline Turkey, while Russia, which stands ready, is prevented only by England's opposition, is something of a humiliation. The intense selfishness of the foreign policy of Britain has its best illustration in these incidents.

SENATOR QUAY, says the Pittsburg Post, is an apostle of the quality of "smartness" in politics, hence he should congratulate the silverites on the persistent and curious way they press their financial fad, instead of showing temper, as he is alleged to have done. The senator well knows the so-called emergency tariff bill, which is an attempt to revive Mckinleyism, does not stand the ghost of a chance of becoming law. His riding that horse, therefore, is simply on a par with the tactics of the silverites, as they know there is no chance of a free coinage law. It is a case of diamond cut diamond. The senator when he promoted the bargain which gave the silverites, control of the senate finance committee dealt winning cards to his colleague and other free coinage senators. There is no more chance of the tariff bill becoming a law than there is of free coinage, and both should be dropped.

THE advocates of high protective tariffs never tire of referring to the year 1892 as indicating the flood tide of industrial prosperity in the United States. There is no doubt that 1892 was a prosperous year. There was an extraordinary European demand both in 1891 and in 1892 for our agricultural products, which helped matters materially. It may, however astonish our manufacturers to know that in 1892 our exports of manufactured goods were less by nearly 49 million dollars than in the year 1895. The country is striding forward at a great pace in finding a foreign market for manufactured goods. In 1892 our manufactures were less than one-sixth of our total exports. In 1895 they were one-fourth of the exports. This is a marvelous change following upon a modification of tariff rates chiefly in the direction of untaxing raw materials.

A RICH gold discovery is reported from Flint Creek, in the Georgetown Montana, district. Nine weeks ago Sam Snyder, a destitute and hungry Butte prospector, trailed a deer over the hills and accidentally discovered a fabulously rich ledge, which he has since been working alone and in secret. He went to town a few days ago with thousands of dollars' worth of gold, and the reports of men who have since inspected the property say that Snyder has a million dollars in sight, his prospect hole is only about ten feet deep. The vein is only eight inches wide so far as developed, but is yellow with virgin gold. The report has caused a stampede into the new district.

AN anarchist threw a stone at King Charles, who was riding in an open carriage at Lisbon. The anarchist was arrested.

Washington Letter.

Washington, D. C., Feb., 1, 1896.—President Cleveland spent a day duck-shooting this week and that may have started the rumor of his intention to decline forwarding to the European nations which signed the Berlin treaty that concurrent congressional resolution, expressing sympathy for the Armenians and calling upon the powers named to enforce the Berlin treaty and compel Turkey to protect the Armenians, on the ground that to do so would be a violation of the American policy inaugurated by Washington and indorsed by all our presidents, of avoiding entanglements in European politics. Whether the president has any such intention is doubtful. The resolution itself being a concurrent one does not require the president's signature to become binding, nor can it be vetoed by him. It "requests" him to communicate the resolution to the governments of the countries named, and while it would be unusual for him to decline, he has the right to do so if he thinks it best. Should he do so it will not be because he does not sympathize with the condition of the Armenians, as he expressed his sympathy for them in strong words in his annual message to congress.

Cuban matters came to the front with a rush when Senator Morgan, of Alabama, on behalf of the senate committee on foreign relations, reported a lengthy resolution setting forth the unfortunate condition of affairs in Cuba and their depressing effects upon our commercial interests, and requesting the president to use his good offices with Spain to get the Cubans recognized as belligerents, in order that the fighting in Cuba may be governed by the rules of war. No one expects that Spain will agree, but if she doesn't it is altogether probable that the United States will, unless there is a change in the situation.

Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, made the speech this week which showed that he lacks the respect which every man should feel for the occupant of the president's chair, and that he is more of a Populist than a Democrat. It also showed—but why write more about it.

Senator Thurston, of Nebraska, more than balanced the speech of Senator Wolcott, of Colorado, against the Monroe doctrine resolution, now before the senate, by one in its favor which specifically pointed out the errors upon which Mr. Wolcott built his argument. Answering the statements made in English papers about the people of the United States being divided in sentiment Senator Thurston said: "Standing upon the floor of the American senate, knowing whereof I speak, I say to the people of Great Britain that the grave issues which have been settled by brave men upon American battlefields can never be reopened again. Sir, there is no division of sentiment in the United States. Let but a single drum beat be heard upon the coasts announcing the approach of a foreign foe, and there will spring to arms in North and South the grandest army the world has ever known; animated by a dea hless loyalty to their country's flag, and marching to the mingled and inspiring strains of our two national airs Yankee Doodle and Dixie."

The editors of those newspapers which are printing what purport, to be accounts of the bids received by the treasury department for those bonds have probably not carefully read the call for those bids. If they will do so they will discover that the bids are to be "sealed" and not to be opened until February 6. With the exception of a few letters containing bids, which were opened by mistake, owing to their not being endorsed on the outside "bids for bonds," no bids have been opened at the treasury, and none will be opened before the date specified. This makes it plain that when a newspaper prints the amount of bids submitted and the prices offered it either has an accomplished second sight man, or an unblushing liar, upon its staff. Secretary Carlisle doesn't know the contents of the sealed bids, but he knows the bonds will be sold, because intending bidders have so assured him.

A dinner party of gentlemen only was entertained by Senator Murphy, of New York, at his Washington residence, this week, and one has only to glance over the names of the guests to be certain that matters were discussed that would interest every Democrat, could the conversation be with propriety made public. Senator Murphy's guests were Senators Hill, Brice, Gorman, Vest, Smith, White, Pugh, Roach, Chilton, Faulkner and Walthall, and Representatives Crisp, Bartlett, Sultzer and Cumings, and Hon. Richard Croker, of New York, in whose honor the dinner was given. It will be noticed that every man of the party is a Democrat of the rock ribbed, tried and found true variety. I don't know that they discussed presidential politics, but if all of that party will agree on a candidate his nomination might be regarded as settled.

The debate on the free coinage substitute for the house bond bill, which had dragged ever since the measure was reported to the senate from the finance committee, became quite lively in its closing hours, although everybody knew just what the vote would result in.

Lumber Trust Formed.

Port Townsend, Wash., February 3.—The biggest trust ever formed on the Pacific coast, and representing a capital of over $70,000,000, went into effect last night. It is the Central lumber, company, of California, and its membership includes every lumber mill, all ship owners, wholesale and retail dealers of the western coast of the United States and British Columbia. All charters of vessels and sales of lumber must be effected through the Central lumber company, which regulates freights and puts the buying and selling price on all lumber, regulating also the product of each mill, and the proportionate amount of lumber each vessel shall carry during the year. Every mill on the coast has its product regulated. The first order issued by the company was to advance the price of lumber $2 per 1,000. Last year the estimated product of the coast was 600,000,000 feet, and this advance will enhance the profits of mill owners the coming year over $1,000,000.

Effort to Save Holmes.

Philadelphia, February 3.—The appeal of Herman W. Mudgett alias H. H. Holmes, the convicted murderer of Benjamin F. Pietzel, came up for argument in the supreme court to-day. Samuel P. Rotan, counsel for Holmes, in his argument made a point that the evidence of Miss Yohe against Holmes should not have been admitted inasmuch as she had been the wife of Holmes. Miss Yohe was married to Holmes, believing his name to be Howard. She subsequently denounced him. Rotan also criticised the action of Judge Arnold in having allowed District Attorney Graham to prejudice the jury by reference in his opening address to the alleged murder by Holmes of the Pietzel children in different parts of the country.

QUAY'S PLAN WON'T GO

Will Be Beaten to Kill the Tariff Bill.

SAME FREE SILVER SUBSTITUTE

Reported For the Tariff Bill as Was Substituted For the House Bond Bill. Republicans Made No Effort to Prevent It's Report In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Although the result on the final vote on the silver substitute to the tariff bill is in a great deal of doubt, there seems to be a very general opinion that the resolution of Senator Quay will be defeated, as it is asserted that all the Democrats and all the Populists will vote against it. If this is true the motion cannot carry and the contest will come directly upon the substitute. Some sound money Democrats are inclined to support the Quay motion, but most of them take the position that they should vote against the motion as a means of killing the tariff bill.

Chairman Morrill made the report to the senate stating that a free silver amendment had taken the place of the original bill, and adding, amid laughter, the closing phrase of official procedure of Massachusetts, "and may God save the commonwealth." Mr. Quay made two attempts to have the bill recommitted to the committee with instructions to report back separate tariff and free silver bills, but was cut off by parliamentary objections. His resolution for recommittment will come up, under the rules, today.

The substitute was suggested by Senator Vest and was agreed to by a majority of one, Senator Jones of Nevada voting with the Democrats for the substitute, and all of the Republicans present voting against it. Senator Wolcott of Colorado was the only Republican absentee, and he was recorded as voting against the substitute. Senator Jones of Arkansas, the only Democratic member not present, was recorded as voting for it. The substitute agreed to is in the exact words of the silver substitute for the bond bill, which passed the senate on Saturday.

The meeting of the committee did not last to exceed half an hour, and was devoid of a special feature beyond the offering and adoption of the substitute. The Republicans brought up the tariff bill and expressed a desire to get it out of committee in some shape. When Mr. Vest propos d the silver substitute it was remarked that the senate had already been through one silver fight this session, and the opinion was expressed that another contest could avail little or nothing. When, however, the vote was taken and the result known, the Republicans made no effort to delay the report to the senate.

HOT IN KENTUCKY.

A Physical Fight Likely to Take Place In the Legislature.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 5.—There was a renewed interest in the balloting for senator today. Hunter's speech in the Republican caucus followed by the decision of the Republican majority in the Werner-Tompkins' committee to turn out Mr. Tompkins has angered Democrats. They now threaten to retaliate by ejecting four Republican senators. These say they will attend the joint session and run the risk of being recognized by Lieutenant Governor Worthington.

The Democrats, however, are laying plans to prevent them from getting inside, and there are people here who fear that the preliminaries to tomorrow's balloting will be a physical fight. There were 126 members present and voting. The ballot resulted: Hunter, 62; Blackburn, 56; scattering, 8.

MARY THURMAN SUED.

Her Sister-In-Law Institutes Suit For False Arrest.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5.—Mrs. Mary Holliday, a daughter of the late Allen G. Thurman of Ohio, wife of Edward T. Holliday, formerly a ball player, is one of the prominent figures in a sensational damage suit which is on trial in this city. The suit was brought by Mrs. Fannie L. Holliday, the defendants sister-in-law, who seeks to recover $25,000 for malicious arrest and false imprisonment.

It is charged that Mr. and Mrs. Holliday falsely and maliciously caused her arrest in August last, on the charge that she had threatened to destroy their personal property and had also threatened their lives. Upon this charge she was imprisoned for eight days, the proceedings against her being finally dismissed.

WILL PROTECT MISSIONARIES.

The State Department Gives Strong Assurances to an Inquirer.

AMHERST, Mass., Feb. 5.—President Goodell of the Amherst Agricultural college and son of Rev. William Goodell, D. D., who was for 40 years a missionary in Turkey, has been in correspondence with the state department in Washington relative to the protection of the missionaries of the American board in Turkey.

He has received assurances from Washington that "protection will be demanded to the fullest extent for those missionaries in Turkey who prefer to remain at their outposts and that the withdrawal of the missionaries will not be urged."

Killed His Workman by Mistake.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Hans Theede, who conducts a beer bottling business in East One Hundred and Fifteenth street, living on the second floor with his wife and two assistants, was awakened during the night by hearing some one on the roof. He shot and killed a man standing on the fence, who proved to be one of his own workmen, hunting the thieves.

Columbian Soldiers Arrive.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—On board the Columbia line steamer Finance, which arrived from Colon, was General C. M. Sarria of the Colombian army, and Senor J. A. Arango, Jr. Their mission is believed to be secret. One report is that they were coming to visit Nixon's shipyard, where a war vessel is being built for the Colombian government.

Reform In Denver.

DENVER, Feb. 5.—Governor McIntyre has determined upon a complete reorganization of the Denver fire and police departments with a view to putting a stop to gambling and kindred evils in the city. Prominent officials have resigned.

Schlatter May Have Perished.

SANTA FE, N. M., Feb. 5.—Francis Schlatter, the healer, has not been heard of for the last two weeks. He was last seen going to the Mogollon mining district. It is possible that he has perished in the snow.

Newspaper Proprietor Dies Suddenly.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 5.—Mr. George Nicholson, one of the proprietors of The Picayune, has died suddenly.

TO INVESTIGATE DEBS' ARREST.

A Resolution Favorably Reported to the Senate From Committee.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Senator Hill, from the senate committee on judiciary, has reported from that committee a substitute for the resolution providing for a special committee to inquire into the imprisonment of Eugene V. Debs. The The substitute directs the judiciary committee to make the investigation, but makes it general.

The committee is to investigate the law upon the whole subject of contempts of court, as enforced by the federal courts, and report to the senate whether any additional legislation is necessary for the protection of the rights of citizens, and if so, to report such legislation.

FLOCKING INTO HAVANA.

Refugees Flying Before the Rebels—A Correspondent Ordered Deported.

HAVANA, Feb. 5. — The continued activity of the insurgents all over the island is indicated by the large number of constantly arriving refugees, whole families making for the towns to escape the violence of the insurgents in the country districts.

Spaniards are still claiming victories at different points.

Captain William F. Mannix, the correspondent of The Army and Navy Journal and of the Washington Star, has been ordered by the authorities to leave the island. A protest against this action has been made by United States Consul General Williams.

WATCH ON A VESSEL.

Spanish Detectives at Perth Amboy Believe She Is Aiming at Cuba.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Feb. 5.—The steamer Neptune, which is at Ramsey's shipyards in this city, has seven Spanish detectives watching her. They say that the Neptuno is being fitted out by the Cubans. The steamer can now make 14 knots an hour. Thirty-five cases of arms and ammunition and five Hotchkiss guns are on board the Neptuno. If she makes an attempt to get away from the Ramsey dock the seven Spanish detectives will have her seized.

The Spanish officers believe that an attempt will be made to get the Neptuno out of the shipyards some dark night.

STRIKERS USE FIREARMS.

A Riot to Prevent Miners From Working Near Halifax.

HALIFAX, Feb. 5.—News of riotous actions on the part of the strikers at the Joggins collieries in trying to prevent men from going to work, have reached here. When it was announced that 80 men had already backed down and gone to work, a crowd of miners, some carrying firearms, assembled at the pit heads and attempted to block the way into the mine, at the same time firing shots into the shafts to intimidate those at work.

The rioters were finally dispersed by the authorities and no one is known to have been injured. The managers have taken out papers against several of the rioters, but they have not yet been arrested.

MAY JOIN A SILVER PARTY.

The National Farmers' Alliance In Session at Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The National Farmers' Alliance and Industrial union is in session at the National hotel. Each state is entitled to from one to two delegates and nearly every state is fully represented.

While the sessions are conducted behind closed doors and the delegates are instructed to maintain secrecy, many of the delegates are known to favor joining forces in the coming election with an independent party made up of the silverites and the Populists. They say the farmers of the country should vote so as best to support the principles of the alliance with government issue of currency the "Keystone of the faith" and free silver next.

A NEW PENSION BILL.

It Provides That a Pensioner Shall Be Served With Evidence of Suspension.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The house committee on invalid pensions has completed the consideration of Representative Pickler's general pension bill. It will be introduced again with various amendments, and when printed, will be at once reported favorably.

The amendments of most importance provide that when fraud is alleged the allegations shall be reduced to writing and be under oath, and that the person affected shall be furnished a certified copy of them. He shall also be provided the names of the persons bringing the charges and of the witnesses by whom such charges are to be proved at least 30 days before the investigation takes place.

MONROE DOCTRINE CONGRESS.

The Minister of Ecuador Has Issued the Formal Invitations.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The movement initiated by the government of Ecuador for the holding of a congress of representatives of all the republics of the Americas to define and endorse the Monroe doctrine and to establish closer social and political relations between them is rapidly taking form. The Ecuadoran minister here, Senor Carbo, has addressed invitations, signed by the Ecuadoran foreign minister, asking the American countries, including the United States, to participate.

The City of Mexico is the place named and Aug. 10 the date, although Washington may be selected.

THE SILVER BOND BILL.

It Is Reported Back to the House Unfavorably.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Mr. Dingley, chairman of the ways and means committee, has reported back the senate free coinage substitute for the house bond bill, with the recommendation that the house non-concur and insist on its bill.

Mr. Crisp, representing the minority, gave notice that the minority would ask the house to concur. The report will be called up today and the debate will run for two days, with night sessions.

Uhl Will Be Ambassador.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The president has made his choice for as successor to the late Mr. Runyon as ambassador to Germany and there is every reason to believe that Assistant Secretary Uhl of the state department will be named for the post this week.

Pursued by a Demon.

How many suicides, think you, reader, have been committed by persons driven distraught and hunted to their doom by the demon of chronic ill he l h? Count ess. For instance, we know, do we not, that hypochondriasis is a monomania —a sort of minor madness produced by chronic dyspepsia? Again, insomania, or sleeplessness, often a result of the same cause, culminates in a derangement of the reasoning faculties. It is, therefore, of momentous consequence to prevent the arrival of disease at its chronic phase, when it daily and nightly scourges the sufferer to a disastrously uncertain goal. No medicine known to science, as a means of arresting the maladies to which it is adapted, exists equal to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Among these complaints are chronic indigestion and insomania, kidney and rheumatic ailments, constipation and liver trouble. Appetite is improved by the Bitters, the blood fertilized, and bodily substance and vigor increased by it.

—D. J. Snyder, editor of the South Journal, was a visitor to Ebensburg

—Samuel Hoenstine, Esq., of Johnstown, a few days in Ebensburg this

—Rev. Father Otto Huber died Friday at St. Vincent College, and was buried on Sunday afternoon in the college cemetery. He was born in Bararia, in 1819, and came to this country and served under Winfield Scott in the war with Mexico. He had been stationed in Allegheny for several years past as chaplain in a mission.

—The Pittsburg Dispatch will celebrate its semi-centennial Saturday February 8, with the most magnificent number of a newspaper ever issued in Pennsylvania, if not in the country. All those who are not already subscribers for Pittsburg's greatest paper should at once see that their names are on the list to secure this issue.

—Minnie Swanger, who is in the Hollidaysburg jail charged with poisoning and who made a confession of the crime, as mentioned in another column, in a paper given to A. V. Dively, Esq., on Tuesday, denied her confession of poisoning the McGregor family. She claims that she signed the paper for Mr. Howe in hope that he would get her out of jail.

—During the year 1895, 338 persons died in Westmoreland county who were sixty years of age or over. Four of them were over ninety-five years of age; eight over ninety; thirty over eighty-five; forty-four over eighty; seventy-two over seventy-five; fifty-eight over seventy; fifty-two over sixty-five; forty- four over sixty, and twenty-six sixty years of age.

—Workmen employed upon a 12-story building at Pittsburg, do not use the elevator in descending from the top. They cling to the ropes used to haul up the iron beams, and thus swinging out in space, they come down, hand over hand. It is a perilous undertaking, and the daring men make it more so by racing down to the street from the top, a distance of about 200 feet.

—A large coal sale, comprising four thousand acres, is about to be consummated between Judge White and a number of business men of Cambria county. Several important meetings have been held at different points, and the parties met here Saturday and made arrangements for the purchase. The land is located near Barnesboro, in Cambria county.—Indiana Progress.

—A dispatch from Bellefonte says: "The greatest excitement among iron manufacturers in Centre county has been caused by the finding of a big vein of pipe ore near Lamar station. The vein has been tested to a depth of twenty-four feet, and the end is not yet. It is almost solid iron and the ore is among the richest known in the state. It is located on the farm of Henry Dornblazer."

—William O'Brien, an old resident of Johnstown, aged about 60 years, was found dead in bed at his boarding house in that city on Monday morning. His wife and one of his daughters were among the persons who perished in the great flood, and his son, John, dropped dead in the Twelfth ward, Johnstown, a few years ago. He was an uncle of William O'Brien, the city clerk.

—Martin Van Buren Scott, a well-known and respected citizen of Reade township, died at his home in that township, on Friday last, in the 56th year of his age. He is survived by three brothers; J. W.; William and George, and two sisters; Mrs. Elizabeth Brown, of Reade township, and Mrs. Mary J. Brown, of Portland, Me. His remains were interred in the cemetery at Cambria Mills, on Sunday.

—Joseph Van Ormer, of Reade township, visited Ebensburg on Monday. He was a candidate for county commissioner on the Republican ticket when he arrived, but on his departure, on Tuesday, was thinking differently. There are bigger, better and fatter offices that the "powers that be" have been thinking of thrusting on Mr. Van Ormer (in the future) and the commissioners' office, this year, will not be "his'n."

—An exchange says: "If people would purchase green coffee and brown it in their houses, there would be fewer cases of diphtheria, scarlet and typhoid fever. The aroma arising from the browning berry is one of the best agents in disinfecting dwellings of impure air. It is easier to buy coffee already browned than to prepare it, but to prepare it once a week saves health and doctor bills. The door should be left open and let the aroma prevade each room."

—The Pennsylvania Railroad company under the supervision of W. H. Moore, road master of the Cambria and Clearfield division, has a large crew engaged in constructing two large sidetracks south of Patton, which will be 1,200 feet in length, for the storage of coal cars. They already have two 1,200 feet sidings, but they are inadequate to hold the vast number of cars which daily come and go to and from Patton as the rapidly increasing coal trade demands more storage room.

—By an act of the legislature passed May 28, 1895, it is made necessary to have recorded in the several counties of the state the plot or plan or sub-division of any tract or piece of land, which has been within a period of ten yerrs prior to the passage of the act in question or which shall thereafter be sub-divided into lots. Upon a failure to have such sub division of lots recorded there is a forfeit or fine of $100 imposed.

—The new short cut of the Pennsylvania railroad from Portage to Lilly runs in a bee line to the hill west of Benscreek, where the hill will be cut, then crosses the old route and follows the old Portage road all the way to Lilly. This will throw the bed of the Pennsylvania railroad tracks 30 feet higher than the old tracks were. It is a striking vindication of the survey of the engineers who laid out the old Portage that the Pennsylvania railroad is going back to the old route they laid out.—Johnstown Times.

—Frank Wilson, accused of the killing by strangulation of Henry Bonnecka, the miser, of Altoona, for the purpose of robbery, was convicted of murder in the first degree at midnight on Friday at Hollidaysburg. Previous to the rendering of the verdict the jury asked instructions of the court whether a recommendation could be appended to their verdict. The court held that only one sentence could be imposed for murder in the first degree, and any recommendation must be presented to the pardon board of the state.

—About 2 o'clock Saturday morning, burglars blew open the safe in the Scottdale postoffice and secured $300 worth of stamps. Dynamite was used by the robbers and the charge was so heavy that it tore the safe to pieces and also damaged the building somewhat. The report of the explosion attracted the attention of a passer-by, who gave the alarm, when two men were seen to rush out of the postoffice, jump into a buggy and drive rapidly out of town. They were traced to Mt. Pleasant, where they abandoned the team.

—While two Belgians and three Frenchmen were in the room of the Belvidere club at Jeannette about 11 o'clock on Saturday night, two men with handkerchiefs tied over their faces and revolvers in their hands, walked in. They covered the five foreigners with the pistols and ordered them to produce their money and valuables. Two gold watches and $130 in cash were quickly laid upon the table. The masked men gathered up the watches and money and left as suddenly as they had entered. Before the victims could give an alarm the robbers had time to escape.

—Jacob Meyers, employed at Booth & Flinn's quarries on the Ligonier Valley railroad at Ligonier, shot his wife in the heart, killing her instantly, on Saturday night. Meyers was manager of a dance at which some outsiders intruded. They attacked him and he drew his revolver to defend himself. The weapon was discharged and Mrs. Meyers fell dead. Her husband is in jail. He claims the shooting was entirely accidental. Coroner McCaskey on Sunday held an inquest on the body of Mrs. Meyers and the jury returned a verdict that she was accidentally shot by her husband.

—Lawrence G. Peters, a Pennsylvania railroad brakeman, employed on the coal train running between Altoona and Lilly, was killed near Portage about 2 o'clock on Monday morning. He had occasion to make a coupling, and while so engaged his neck was caught between the bumpers, or deadwoods, and broken, and his jaw bone and shoulder were fractured. The unfortunate man was dragged some distance before the accident was discovered, but he escaped being mangled by the wheels. He was a native of Centre county, aged 22 and unmarried. His remains were taken to Altoona for interment.

—Mr. Lawrence Stich, Sr., of Carrolltown, aged 66 years, died at his home on Friday evening last, after a lingering illness from a complication of diseases. He was born in Germany and came to Cambria county in 1852, residing there from that time on. He was by trade a cooper. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Fredericka Binder. These children out of a family of fifteen still survive: Otto, Andrew, Benno, Irene, Annie, Bertha, Boniface and Anton, all residing at home, and Herman, of Altoona. The deceased was a member of St. Benedict's Catholic church of Carrolltown, and his funeral took place on Monday morning.

—A dastardly robbery and murder was brought to light at Philadelphia on Wednesday morning, at 1506 Swain Street. The house was occupied by Joseph H. Richelderfer, aged 78 years, who had in his employ Miss Annie Tate, as housekeeper, and George H. Barton as body servant. On Wednesday morning Barton poisoned the old man and the housekeeper, ransacked the house and fled while the two victims were suffering agonies from the dose. They were discovered by neighbors but Miss Tate died during the day while it is expected that the old man will recover. Barton's whereabouts are unknown. Miss Tate is a native of Altoona and has a sister, Mrs. Jennie Harinsh living in Hollidaysburg.

Killed at Cresson.

James Berry, a freight conductor, on the Pennsylvania railroad, whose home was at Derry, was fatally injured near Cresson, at 7:30 on Wednesday evening. Berry was standing on the platform of his cabin when the train to which the cabin was attached broke. The two pieces of the train collided a few minutes after and the shock of the sudden impact threw Conductor Berry off the cabin platform and the wheels passed over his left thigh, grinding it into a horrible mass. He also sustained several ugly cuts and gashes on the head.

The unfortunate man was picked up and carried to Gallitzin, where he was placed on Philadelphia express and taken to Altoona. At the hospital it was quickly seen that his injuries were fatal. After lingering in full consciousness for several hours he passed quietly away at 10:15 P. M.

The deceased was 42 years of age and is survived by his wife, four children, his mother, two brothers and one sister.

Miss Bertha Fuhrer.

Through the influence of Dr. Baron W. King, Miss Bertha Fuhrer, his associate teacher, has been secured to deliver a lecture, "London from the Top of an Omnibus," in the Ebensburg School Hall, Friday evening, February 7.

Miss Fuhrer comes highly recommended as a scholar and entertainer. The following brief synopsis will give an idea of the nature of the lecture: "Sights and Sounds from White Chapel to Hyde Park." "The World's Metropolis as it has been. Growing through the Centuries." "Anecdotes and History." Before the lecture, the audience will be favored with vocal duets and recitations by Miss Fuhrer.

Admission, reserved seats 25; unreserved 15 cents; all school children 10 cents, (not reserved.)

Ralance of proceeds after paying lecturer to be used to purchase books for school library.

Chart of seats now open at James' drug store. Don't fail to attend.

Marriage Licenses.

The following marriage licenses were issued by the Clerk of the Orphans' Court for the week ending Thursday, January 6, 1896:

Nicholas Kisclak and Emma Kroncak, Johnstown.

Jacob E. McCartney and Viola J. Brallier, Conemaugh.

Abraham H. Lewine, Altoona, and Sarah Mendlestein, South Fork.

Victor Golets, Patton and Karalina Kirmeneskiy, Benscreek.

Charles Cartledge and Hannah Entwistle, Barnesboro.

John F. Webb and Melvina Thomas, Johnstown.

H. J. Doyle and Amelia Zimmerman, Johnstown.

Howard A. Wilson and Harriet J. Keck, Johnstown.

John Beanjon and Mary Maher, Johnstown.

Mike Picare and Elizabeth Koceise, Benscreek.

John Thomas, Tunnelhill, and Mary J. Fuller, Delancy.

The Treasurer's Salary.

According to the Auditors' report the salary of the county treasurer, as near as an outsider can foot it up, amounts to something in the neighborhood of $8,000.

The report credits him with commissions as follows:

Commissions on orders paid	$5,658 36
" " retail liquor license	87.52
" " sheep fund	75.15
" for distribution of license fund	1,501.05
Fees on 153 liquor licenses @ 75 cts.	114.75
Total	$7,436.94

In addition, there are fees attached to the office that it is impossible to figure upon. There are five or six hundred mercantile licenses @ 25 cents each that we are aware of and we suppose the total would swell the salary up to or over $8,000.

Boiler Explosion

A boiler exploded in the iron mill at Hollidaysburg on Thursday morning of last week, shattering the mill and killing three persons, wounding twenty others, four seriously. The dead are: George Lane, aged 55, married, bricklayer, crushed to death; Merrill Treece, aged 15, top of skull torn off; Constance Evans, aged 16, ribs broken and skull crushed. The most seriously injured are: Samuel Kephart, aged 36, married, skull fractured; Frank Cramer, aged 56, married, superintendent of mill, skull fractured and four ribs broken; Samuel Marks, aged 50, skull fractured and badly burned; Robert Marks, aged 25, puddler, cut about head and leg broken; Finley Ferguson, aged 38, married, puddler, cut and scalded, in a dangerous condition; John Woomer, aged 45, married, puddler, skull fractured and not expected to recover; Robert McMurray, aged 25, unmarried, skull fractured and in a critical condition. When the accident occurred, about 7:15 o'clock, about one hundred men were at work. The cause of the explosion is a mystery.

The boiler which blew up was of the horizontal cylinder type. It had been in use for many years and by many of the workwas regarded as unsafe. At the time of the explosion the engines were not running. The boiler was fired directly from the puddling furnaces and no fireman was required. Engineer Cramer, who was in charge of the boiler when it blew up, said on Saturday morning: "The engine boiler was full of water and I had 100 pounds of steam on. I do not know what caused the explosion unless there was a weak place in the shell."

When the explosion occurred the boiler went through the roof and ascended into the air probably 100 feet. It went straight up and came down through the roof at about forty feet from where it had formerly set. The entire one side of the mill in which the explosion took place was wrecked. An official of the company said the loss would probably reach $5,000 or perhaps more.

The scene of the explosion beggars description. Iron twisted into fantastic shapes and broken boards and piles of brick, where once stood a well ordered mill, now mark the scene of the calamity. How so few men were killed is a mystery to all who witnessed the explosion.

Lincoln's Anniversary.

On next Wednesday evening, February 12, 1896, Lieut. Hugh Jones Camp, Sons of Veterans, of Ebensburg, will hold a public celebration in commemoration of the anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth, which occurred near the obscure little village of Hodgenville, in Larue county, Kentucky, just 87 years ago on that day. Although it will be 31 years on April 15th next, since the great patriot martyr fell beneath the foul hand of the assassin, his memory is still as bright in the minds of the people as though it had occurred but yesterday, and his is one of the few names which will live and be revered until time shall be no more.

At the celebration on Wednesday evening, which will be held in the Opera House addresses will be made, and music will be one of the principal features of the evening. The programme is not entirely completed yet, but the greater part of it is.

Prof. T. L. Gibson will have charge of the music, which will be varied by selections by a male quartette; and popular national airs, in which the audience will be expected to participate. Invocation, by Chaplain Daniel James, of the camp; Address of Welcome by S. L. Reed, Esq.; Recitation, Laus Deo, (Whittier,) by Miss Anna Davison, of the Ladies Aid; Address on Abraham Lincoln, by Alvin Evans, Esq.; General remarks by comrades of the Grand Army; and an address on Lieut. Hugh Jones and the Sons of Veterans, by Hon. A. A. Barker.

Everybody is most cordially invited to attend and to join heartily in making the meeting a grand success.

Minnie Swanger Confesses.

At the coroner's inquest held on Saturday on the death of William McGregor, of Altoona, whose death by poison occurred on Wednesday two weeks ago in that city, H. H. Howe, a son-in-law of William McGregor, testified that Minnie Swanger, a niece of the deceased, who had been arrested and placed in jail at Hollidaysburg, suspected of administering the poison, made a confession to him in the Hollidaysburg jail on January 29. She admitted that she desired to rob the house and had bought the poison with the idea that it would make the people at the dinner table so sick that they could not observe her movements. She declared that she had no intention of killing anybody and that she had no accomplice in the affair. She acknowledged that she placed the poison in the coffee pot and had taken Mrs. Johnson's money when the poison made Mrs. Johnson sick.

Upon this statement the coroner's jury rendered a verdict that Minnie Swanger had caused the death of William McGregor. She is only 15 years old.

By-Products of Coke at Latrobe.

The block of 30 by-product coke ovens of the Latrobe coal company are about completed and by March 1st. it is expected that izel oil, gas and ammonia will be produced. About 10 gallons of izel oil will be produced from every ton of coal, or 50 gallons per oven at each charge. This oil will go to a refinery, where about twenty other substances will be extracted, among them being a greenish disinfectant, having the properties of carbolic acid, but non-poisonous, and toilet and laundry soap, tooth powder, cough lozenges and many other articles. The gas will produce ammonia. The cost of operating these ovens will be no greater than that of an ordinary oven. Greensburg Argus.

—Charles Johnston and Charles Exline, two miners working in a mine near Amsbry, were caught by a fall of coal on Wednesday of last week and severely injured. Johnston had one hand so badly crushed that it had to be amputated and Exline had one foot badly crushed.

A WEALTHY MAN'S FATE.

An Altoona Man Expires Under Peculiar Circumstances at St. Louis.

ALTOONA, Pa., Feb. 5.—The man who registered at 2650 Pine street, in St. Louis, Friday night as J. Morris and who was found dead in his bed Sunday morning, was David M. Loudon, a wealthy citizen of Altoona. The woman who accompanied him, and who was represented as his wife, is supposed to be a woman from this vicinity with whom he was intimate. The family to which the man belongs originally owned the farm upon which a great part of Altoona is situated. Loudon left here last Wednesday saying he was going to Cincinnati to receive treatment for rheumatism.

He took a large sum of money with him and, as his pocketbook and the woman are missing, it is believed she took all his valuables. The fact that Louden bought laudanum at a St. Louis drugstore, the empty bottles being found in his room leads his acquaintances here to believe that he took an overdose of the drug to ease pain and not with the intention of committing suicide. They don't believe it to be a case of Murder. His brother, who was one of Altoona's prominent men is now a patient in a Philadelphia hospital. D. M. Loudon was 62 years old and leaves a wife and several children. A son has gone after the body.

ALLISON IS THE MAN

For Michener, Who Was Harrison's Right Hand Man.

HARRISON MAY TAKE NOMINATION

If It Is Unanimous and the Good of the Party Demands It—John W. Foster Says the Letter Was Final. Hahn Is Jubilant.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—General Harrison's letter of withdrawal from the presidential race, has given considerable impetus to political work about the capitol. Friends of Reed, Morton, McKinley and Allison are encouraged by the letter.

Mr. Dingley of Maine, who is Speaker Reed's closest friend in the house was reluctant to say more about General Harrison's letter than it undoubtedly removed him from the field as a presidential factor.

Senator Hansbrough, who is a strong advocate of the nomination of Senator Davis, said he thought the withdrawal of General Harrison would benefit the Minnesota candidate very much.

Mr. Hepburn of Iowa said: "Harrison has always recognized the aid given him in 1888 by the immediate friends of Allison at a critical period of his candidacy. He has a high regard for the the ability of the senator, as was evinced by the earnest demand he made that the senator should be a member of his cabinet as secretary of the treasury in 1889 and which demand would have been acceded to, but for the protest of the Republicans of Iowa, who were unwilling to lose him from the senate.

General L. T. Michener, well known as an old-time friend of General Harrison and one who had much to do with his nomination, said, "I do not know what Indiana will do, but I imagine that all the candidates will develop strength there, especially Mr. McKinley and Mr. Allison. The manufacturing centers will probably be disposed to support Mr. McKinley, while the otner sections, I should think, would be very likely to go to Mr. Allison or Mr. Morton. It seems to me that Mr. Allison would naturally have considerable support from the state, not only as a matter of gratitude for the timely and efficient support which General Harrison received from the Allison men in the national convention of 1888, but also because his conceded abilities and known conservative characteristics and views would make him particularly satisfactory to those friends of General Harrison who were drawn to him because of his possession of the same qualities.

"No extremist or representative of extreme views has ever been elected president of the United States. The conservative cautious voters of this country hold the balance of power and elect its presidents. To such people I believe the candidacy of Mr. Allison will be particularly agreeable, and I anticipate that many of the old-time friends and supporters of General Harrison, in various parts of the country, will be found advocating the nomination of Mr. Allison."

When asked if there was any contingency in which Harrison might accept, General Michener said:

"If it should appear that the nomination of General Harrison would be absolutely essential to party harmony or party success, or to the peace and prosperity of the country, I have no doubt that the friends of General Harrison would urge his nomination in the convention, and if nominated in such circumstances I don't see how he could decline. The duty to accept it would seem to be as apparent as was his duty to take the sword in defense of his country in 1862. He has never failed to respond to the call of public duty. At the same time I have not the slightest doubt that it is the earnest wish that the nomination should go elsewhere."

Hon. John W. Foster, who succeeded Mr. Blaine as secretary of state in President Harrison's cabinet, said he thought the ex-president's declination was final.

M'KINLEY'S ELECTION CERTAIN.

Hahn Thinks So and Wants an Early Convention In Ohio.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 5.—William M. Hahn, secretary of the Republican national committee says the declination of Harrison makes McKinley's nomination and election sure.

Mr. Hahn favors the holding of the Ohio convention in March, to show the country that this state is a unit for McKinley. He favors Sherman, Foraker, Bushnell and Grosvenor for delegates-at-large.

Warner Miller's Opinion.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—"The effect o. General Harrison's action upon Governor Morton's prospects," said ex-Senator Miller, "can hardly be other than helpful. He and the governor are friends, and have many friends in common. It seems to me that the general's followers should turn instinctively to the governor, now that their own leader has withdrawn from the field. At all events the Harrison letter will add new force and determination to the movement for Governor Morton's nomination."

Switzerland Agrees to Arbitrate.

BERNE, Switzerland, Feb. 5.—The federal council has authorized the president of the Swiss republic to accept the proposal tendered by the governments of Great Britain and the United States that, in the event of a disagreement as to the choice of an arbitrator for the Canadian sealers' claims, the president of Switzerland shall designate an arbitrator.

Much Excitement, Little Fire.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Fire that started in the drying room in the basement of the Gilsey House caused no little excitement among the 224 guests in the house, many of whom became hysterical, while others fell downstairs in their efforts to escape from the building and others hurried down stairs in their night clothes. Loss, $500.

A Bomb Exploded In Lisbon.

LISBON, Feb. 5.—A bomb has been exploded in the residence of the physician who certified to the lunacy of the man who threw a stone into the king's carriage a short time ago. Ten arrests have been made.
